

PARTICIPATORY RESEARCH WORKSHOP

Join us in a skill sharing workshop session for all those who are engaged with participatory research. We offer this space to encourage exploration of new ideas, as a test space for your own research and a place to share and learn from other PGR's, community researchers and established participatory researchers.

TUESDAY
13TH OF JUNE

4pm-5.30pm
(After the Making Waves Symposium)

York St John
Creative Centre
CC011 & Online.

SPEAKERS

In this initial meet up, short prompts will be raised by a community-based practitioner; a co-researcher; an established academic.

We then invite you to engage in discussions and reflections about your own research experiences,

Register Here:

In this session, we will be joined by Michelle Fine, author of Just Research in Contentious Times: Widening the Methodological Imagination and co-author of Essentials of Critical Participatory Action Research, to share insights into her experiences of participatory research.

For More Information: r.berding@yorks.ac.uk